THE DOWNFALL OF ZELAYA

Planned by President Cabrera of Guatemala.

REVOLUTION IN HONDURAS

Said to Have Been Merely a Preliminary Step in the Plot—President Figueroa of Salvador Said to Have Been Implicated in Conspiracy.

Panama, July 20.—Central Americans who are now in Panama and who are greatly interested in the situation brought about by the revolutionary movement in Honduras, are convinced that the presidents of several of the republics are involved in the affair, the ramifications of which reach far back.

According to one of the most prominent of these Central Americans, President Cabrera, Guatemala, following the last conspiracy against his life, of which he believed President Zelaya of Nicaragua to be the promoter, conceived a plan for Zelaya's downfall. Fearing that without aid he could not succeed in this, he endeavored to interest his neighbor, President Figueroa of Salvador, who had an old grudge against Zelaya, whom he charged with giving openly some time ago, men, arms and money to Dr. Prudencio Alfaro for the purpose of invading Salvador.

For a time President Figueroa was undecided, but eventually General Manuel Bonilla, ex-president of Honduras, who was deposed by the revolution promoted also by Zelaya, appeared on the scene. He recommended that they begin operations by replacing him as president of Honduras, this merely as a preliminary step; later all three republics, Honduras, Guatemala and Salvador, he suggested could join forces in an attack on Nicaragua. Prior to this, the Honduran confidential envoy in Guatemala, General Miguel O. Bustillo, had been imprisoned, it is believed, for the purpose of precipitating war with Honduras, but the challenge remained unanswered.

GENERAL MANUEL BONILLA.

ed could join forces in an attack on Nicaragua. Prior to this, the Honduran confidential envoy in Guatemala, General Miguel O. Bustillo, had been imprisoned, it is believed, for the purpose of precipitating war with Honduras, but the challenge remained unanswered.

Revolution Then Ordered.

Honduras, however, began preparations and increased its army by 10,000 men, placing a strong guard along the frontiers. A revolutionary movement was then ordered by those who were endeavoring to bring about a change in the government of Honduras, the revolutionists invading that country from the Guatemalan and Salvadoran frontiers.

President Zelaya was taken by surprise at the movement and caught unprepared, but he immediately saw the peril to his government. Undoubtedly to help as much as possible the Honduran government, Zelaya incited the Nicaraguan army and placed arms in the hands of Salvadoran refugees, among whom were a number of prominent and popular leaders, and quietly awaited developments.

President Figueroa, knowing that only a spark would start a powerful revolutionary fire in his dominion, was alarmed at the determined action of Honduras and Nicaragua, and refused further to aid the revolutionists in Honduras. In the meantime the heads of both Honduras and Nicaragua promptly filed charges in the Central American court of justice against Salvador and Guatemala.

Shortly after the presentation of these charges the United States cruiser Albany left for Amapala with a force of marines, and other warships were announced as being under orders to proceed to the scene of the trouble if necessary, and as a result of the attitude of the United States the belligerent sentiments of the various Central American presidents cooled considerably. As the matter now stands each one is accusing the other and all are making claims to having been neutral.

AWAITING THE PRINCE.

City of Quebec Is in a Flutter of Anticipation.

Quebec, Que., July 20.—This quaint old city is in a flutter of anticipation over the arrival of his royal highness the Prince of Wales, who will sail into the harbor next Wednesday aboard the new British battleship the Indomitable, to inaugurate the three hundredth anniversary of the founding of Quebec by the French navigator, Champlain.

Great masses of troops are being assembled here to do honor to the future monarch and to take part in the Champlain exercises. The harbor already presents a stirring naval spectacle, with the British battleships Exmouth, Albermarle, Russell and Duncan, and the cruisers Venus and Arrogant, the French battleships Leon Gambetta and Admiral Aube, which will soon be joined by the United States battleship New Hampshire and later by the Prince of Wales' squadron the Indomitable, Minotaur and other ships.

Although the founding of Quebec is the primary purpose of the celebration, the coming of the Prince of Wales, Field Marshal Lord Roberts, the Duke of Norfolk and many other notable personages is proving of far greater interest than the historical exercises. The prince was in Canada before, when a young naval officer commanding the gunboat Thrush. But this is his first visit since he reached his exalted rank of Prince of Wales and future king. He will be quartered in the citadel, a grim old fortress perched 400 feet above the St. Lawrence.

The citadel is surrounded by old time moats and bastions, in the midst of which is the governor general's residence, which will be the royal establishment during the prince's stay. Lord Roberts is also quartered in the citadel. Vice President Fairbanks, who is to represent the United States government, is expected to arrive in time to be present at the welcome extended to the Prince of Wales. Among the other notable figures gathered here are the representatives and lineal descendants of Wolfe and Montcalm, the heroes of the battle on the Plains of Abraham.

The formal opening of the week's exercises began Sunday with a monster parade of the young French-Canadians who assembled at the foot of Champlain's monument, heaping it with flowers and singing hymns in his praise.

TO SUCCEED SHERMAN.

Loudenslager to Be Chairman of Congressional Campaign Committee.

Washington, July 20.—Representative Henry C. Loudenslager of New Jersey will be the chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee to succeed James Sherman, candidate for vice president. Henry Casson of Wisconsin, sergeant-at-arms of the house, will be chosen secretary of the committee to take the place of Mr. Loudenslager.

Ever since the Chicago convention it has been the plan for Mr. Sherman to retire from the committee, and that either Mr. Loudenslager or Representative Tawney of Minnesota would succeed him. Speaker Cannon and others have sought to induce Mr. Sherman to remain chairman, but without avail.

The executive committee of the congressional committee will meet at Utica on Aug. 3 to receive Mr. Sherman's resignation and to elect Mr. Loudenslager and Mr. Casson.

LURLINE THE VICTOR.

Wins Yacht Race From San Pedro, Cal., to Honolulu.

Honolulu, July 20.—After a computation of the time made by each vessel and taking out the handicap allowances, the officials declared the yacht Lurline of the South Coast Yacht club of Southern California the victor in the transpacific yacht race from San Pedro, Cal., to this port.

The Lurline arrived here at 9:34 a. m. Saturday and the other three yachts arrived Sunday within six hours of each other. The corrected time of the yachts was as follows: Lurline, 13 days, 21 hours, 31 minutes, 43½ seconds. Gwendlyn J. L., Seattle Yacht club, 14 days, 4 hours, 7 minutes, 8½ seconds. Lady Maud, San Diego Yacht club, 14 days, 16 hours, 37 minutes, 9½ seconds. Hawaii, Hawaiian Yacht club, 14 days, 18 hours, 46 minutes.

Twenty-Two People Drowned.

Vienna, July 20.—Floods have washed away the village of Juszeyna on the Galician estate of Archduke Stephen. Twenty-two people have been drowned.

IN COLORADO SPRINGS

Hitchcock Will Confer with Republican Leaders.

TO CARRY DOUBTFUL STATES

Taft's Campaign Manager Would Have States That Are Safely Republican Assist in Campaigning in Neighboring Commonwealths.

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 20.—Frank H. Hitchcock, chairman of the Republican national committee, has arrived here to consult with the members of the national committee and chairmen of Western state and territorial committees in a two days' conference. The men who are to meet Chairman Hitchcock are as follows: Members of the National Committee—W. S. Sturgis, Arizona; Charles Cavender, Colorado; Senator William E. Borah, Idaho; David W. W. Muir, Kansas; Thomas C. Marshall, Montana; Victor Rosewater, Nebraska; S. Luna, New Mexico; James Kennedy, North Dakota; Cash M. Cade, Oklahoma; Ralph E. Williams, Oregon; Thomas Thorson, South Dakota; C. Allyon, Texas; William Spry, representing C. B. Loose, Utah; Robert L. McCormick, Washington, and George R. Paxton, Wyoming.

State Chairmen—Herbert R. Tonney, Arizona; George Stone, California; John F. Vivian, Colorado; James H. Brady, Idaho; J. T. Moore, Kansas; Fletcher Maddox, Montana; William Hayward, Nebraska; George F. Turrittin, Nevada; H. O. Bursum, New Mexico; L. B. Hanna, North Dakota; Chase Hunter, Oklahoma; W. M. Cade, Oregon; W. C. Cook, South Dakota; Cecil A. Lyon, Texas; Wesley K. Walton, Utah; A. E. Statter, representing Washington, and Vice Chairman Gramm, representing Charles W. Burdick, Wyoming.

The national committeemen from California and Nevada were unable to come. Senator Warren of Wyoming and a number of other Republicans not members of the committee also will be here.

Hitchcock's Plan Is New.

Nothing of the kind like the undertaking by Mr. Hitchcock was ever attempted in the history of national campaigns in any party. He announced on his arrival here that it would be his purpose to have states which are certainly Republican assist in campaigning in neighboring states, which may be doubtful. To that end he is bringing the Western leaders together. There will be a general conference, at which the various leaders will exchange ideas and formulate a system whereby one state may draw on the political resources of another. After that Mr. Hitchcock will hold individual conferences with the representatives of each of the seventeen states and territories which are sending men to the political gathering.

According to Chairman Hitchcock, there has been a lack of coherence between Western leaders in past campaigns, the representatives of each state doing their best to pile up Republican majorities, but not helping other states which have more difficult political battles to fight. He said that he wanted to broaden the responsibilities of each of the Western Republican leaders with a view of carrying the whole Western region for Taft and Sherman.

When asked what Western states he regards as safely Republican and what ones he classes as doubtful, Mr. Hitchcock said:

"I have determined not to make any predictions at any time. That will be my policy throughout the campaign. We won't neglect any territory where there is bare chance of victory either North, South, East or West, but I shall not indulge in forecasts."

A delegation from Denver arrived here to see Mr. Hitchcock and urged the selection of that city as the place of establishing a Western headquarters for the distribution of campaign material and assignment of speakers. Salt Lake City is being considered also, but no decision will be made until after Mr. Hitchcock returns to the East.

MEMBER OF LABOR UNION

Judge Taft Belongs to International Society of Steam Shovel Men.

Hot Springs, Va., July 20.—When Judge William H. Taft goes to Cincinnati to be notified of his nomination for the presidency by the Republican party he will receive notice of his election as a member of a labor organization. He has been elected a member of the International Society of Steam Shovel Men, of which T. J. Dolan of Chicago is president. Mr. Taft had a good deal to do with the steam shovel men at Panama. His notification of his membership in the union will be made on July 29. He will probably leave here next Saturday for Cincinnati and may not return until the following Saturday.

SUITS! SUITS! SUITS! SUITS!

"MICHAEL'S"

"MICHAEL'S"

turn until the following Saturday. Mr. Taft has concluded that it will not be possible for him to attend any state fairs before the election. After Sept. 1 he expects to remain in Cincinnati until the election is over.

Willis Moore, chief of the weather bureau, is coming here. Mr. Moore has some ideas concerning the treatment of the labor problem which he desires to talk over with Mr. Taft. Judge Taft will open court at Germantown, five miles from Hot Springs, and will deliver an address on the administration of justice.

NOT DISHEARTENED.

American Athletes Expect to Win Championship in Field Sports.

London, July 20.—The United Kingdom, which before the opening of the Olympic games at the stadium had a big lead over all other nations in the number of wins for supremacy in all sports, most of which, however, were scored in competition in which no other nation took part, almost doubled that lead during the past week, and furthermore overtook the American team in the count for track and field events. But this has not served to dishearten the American athletes and those of the countrymen who accompanied them to England. James E. Sullivan, the commissioner representing the United States, said:

"We have come here to win the championship in field sports and we are going to do it despite the handicap from which we are suffering. This handicap has been two fold. In the first place, the men came to a country having the worst possible climate for those unused to it and this affected them very seriously.

"The other handicap is the manner in which the heat drawings have been conducted. The drawings have gone against us in the 1,500-meter races when our best men, Sheppard and Halstead, were pitted against each other and the same thing occurred in the 800-meter event. Sheppard and Halstead were drawn against each other for a second time. Brownlow and Ramey also have been put into a heat together in this event, while in two other heats of the 800-meter race not a single American has been drawn. It is either extraordinary bad luck or the manner in which the drawings have been made that has resulted in such unfavorable conditions for the Americans. We have tried to figure out how the drawings are conducted, but have not been able to get anything from the Amateur Athletic association officials except the reply 'the drawings have been made in the usual way.'

"The United Kingdom had its innings in the distance events last week; the Americans will have their turn this week in the sprints, hurdles and jumps."

Ends Life With Acid.

Decorah, Ia., July 20.—David Coughlin, residing at Freeport, three miles east of Decorah, committed suicide by swallowing carbolic acid. Coughlin of late had been drinking and his wife left him. Shortly before taking his life he asked a neighbor, George Kirkland, to come to his home, and when Kirkland entered the house, Coughlin swallowed the acid.

Enormous Damage From Storms.

Madrid, July 20.—Violent storms which have been raging in the valley of the Ebro have done enormous damage.

Found in a Pool of Blood.

Columbus, Ind., July 20.—The body of Mrs. Carrie H. Percifield was found in a pool of blood west of the city. John Underwood, a street car motor man, was arrested on suspicion.

BALLOON RACE ENDED.

Colonel Coey's Chicago Wins Aero-nautic Contest.

St. Paul, July 20.—The great international balloon race, the third ever held in the United States, is over, with the mammoth Chicago, piloted by its owner, Colonel Charles A. Coey of Chicago, the winner, and the America, the St. Paul balloon, piloted by Captain Percy S. Hudson and N. P. Wild, second. The United States of Minneapolis finished third, the champion Pommern fourth and the baby King Edward fifth.

Although fourth in the long distance race, the Pommern was second in the endurance tests, remaining in the air 16 hours and 15 minutes.

The Chicago stayed in the air 17 hours and 20 minutes, covering a distance of 85 miles and landing in a field three miles east of Blooming Prairie, Minn.

The American, which finished second, sailed 70 miles to Owatonna, Minn., remaining in the air 4 hours and 42 minutes and landing in a field two miles east of the village.

The United States, sailing for 4 hours and 15 minutes, covered a distance of 62 miles, coming down at West Concord, Minn.

The Pommern, remaining in the air 16 hours and 15 minutes, traversed a distance of only 61 miles owing to shifting air currents and landed eight miles east of Warsaw, Minn.

The King Edward, which finished last, remained in the air only 1 hour and 10 minutes, landing three miles south of Hampton, Minn., a distance of twenty-nine miles.

All the trips were attended by the best fortune and the landings made without serious accident.

ANTI-FOREIGN FIGHT.

Said to Be Assuming Large Proportions in Mexico.

Mexico City, July 20.—The anti-foreign fight in Mexico is assuming large proportions and a bitter controversy over the question is being waged by the foreign and native press.

La Patria printed an article in which it proclaims the time ripe for a policy whose cry shall be, "Mexico for the Mexicans."

Most of the tirade is directed against the "Yankees," a term of contempt used by Mexican editors in designating Americans.

Among other things La Patria declares that if Americans think the governments of Argentina, Chile or Brazil more enlightened than that of Mexico they should journey to those parts, the sooner the better.

After referring to the efforts on the part of foreigners against the proposed new mining law restricting incorporations in Mexico, the paper says:

"We repeat our attitude towards foreigners. We are not Boxers, but patriots, and when we make a given decision we make it not as against foreigners, but for the benefit of Mexico."

The paper summarizes the anti-foreign sentiment as follows, and champions all but the railroad measures:

"The minister of public works has submitted to the executive of the union the draft of a new mining law which incapacitates foreigners from acquisition of mines in the frontier states and foreign companies from acquiring mines in any part of the republic."

INEXPLICABLE SILENCE.

Maintained by Dutch Government Regarding Action of Castro.

London, July 20.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from The Hague comments on the Dutch government's

"extraordinary apathy in the face of President Castro's unwarrantable measures against the Curacao Dutch, which practically have annihilated the trade on that island."

The dispatch says that the latest mail from Curacao brings despairing complaints because of this inactivity on the part of the Dutch government and, continues the dispatch, while the responsible press demands that measures be taken to vindicate the honor of the Dutch flag, the government maintains an inexplicable silence.

Rain Puts Out Forest Fires.

Portland, Me., July 20.—A succession of drenching showers have served to put a stop to the great fires which have wrought damage amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars in the Maine woods during the past two weeks. While the loss has not been definitely estimated, it is believed that it will reach $500,000.

THE Ashby Post has changed hands,
Chas. H. Davis succeeding Wm. Pen-
nar.

THE population of St. Paul is now
225,300, an increase of over 28,000 since 1905.

WITH $3,000,000 and over in the state
treasury Minnesota has more money on hand than at any one time before in
many years.

FRANK DAY has laid a wager of $10
that the next governor of Minnesota
will be a democrat. Frank has always been willing to take long chances.

SAMUEL GOMPERS, president of the American Federation of Labor, denies having sent a cablegram to W. R.
Hearst urging him to support Bryan.

BRYAN promises the people of the country that if they will elect him
president this time he will under no circumstances ask them for their support for a second term. He thinks four years under his leadership would
be all they could stand.

THE state treasury has just sent out
a small fortune in checks representing the state bounty for wolves killed in
the various counties, the first bounty payment since March and the largest in years. The amount was $13,548.50,
of which Marshall county receives $1,567.50 for 244 wolves killed within its borders. The amount covers the killing of 1,265 full grown and 1,357
cub wolves.

THE Akeley Herald says: "The Sixth
district republicans are so well pleased with the work of Congressman Charles
A. Lindbergh that they would not tolerate any opposition to his candidacy
in the coming primary election. He was one of the few who stood for what his constituents wanted in the recent session of congress. Mr. Lindbergh is fearless and faced the "Cannon" with out a quiver, give us more such men in the national house and the reign of Cannon short and something will be accomplished."

THE Brainerd Tribune has been taken to task by Bro. Sheets, of the Long Prairie Argus, for its attitude toward Roosevelt, and in the last issue of the Tribune Bro. Halsted says: "It is hardly necessary to add that Bro. Sheets is postmaster of Long Prairie and of course is doing nothing more than he was expected when he was appointed to the office." The Tribune is in error
when it says Bro. Sheets is postmaster
of Long Prairie as he has held no office
since 1906 at which time he was succeeded by Judge Callahan, and the Tribune's conclusion that Sheet's judgment is warped by the salary he draws is erroneous. The comment is the unbiased opinion of a man who is not contaminated by a government job as Bro.
Halsted seems to think.

Miss Clara Fuller's class in the First
M. E. Sunday school has planned a trip down the river in Mr. Mayo's boat as a means of raising their share of the money for a new organ for the Sunday school. The excursion will be Friday evening, leaving the Laurel street

J. C. Barber returned today from a business trip to Chicago and went to Crows' Nest, his summer home on Nokay lake. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burnham, of Ft. Atkinson, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. R. Burnham, of St.
Cloud, accompanied Mr. Barber to this city and will be his guests at Crows' Nest.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. M. Johnston, of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Beadle, of Traverse City, Mich., have returned from a trip to the Yellowstone. The party arrived in Staples eight hours late yesterday and Mr. Johnston came up on a freight, Mr. Beadle and the ladies remaining in Staples until this morning.

W. S. Orne was in municipal court on a warrant sworn out by J. H. Northrop, charging the former with applying abusive epithets to the complainant.
There were two witnesses heard besides the complaining witness and the defendant, they being E. J. Rhone, before whose building the trouble occurred and Erick Carlson, an employe of Mr. Rhone. After hearing the evidence Judge Albright dismissed the complaint.

The Dog Morland Painted.

Of the many stories of the seemingly unconscious heroism of Newfoundland dogs none is more interesting than the one concerning the noble dog which Morland afterward painted.

When William Phillips, bathing at Portsmouth, ventured beyond his depth
and was drowning, two boatmen, instead of setting out to his rescue, hag-
gled about a reward from the bystanders, who were urging them to go to Phillips' rescue. In the midst of the controversy a Newfoundland dog leaped into the water and brought the exhausted bather to shore. Mr. Phillips bought the dog from its owner, a butcher, and yearly gave a festival in honor of his rescuer.

It was for Mr. Phillips that Morland
painted the dog's picture, and Barto-
lozzi engraved it.

CONTRACT LET FOR BANK BUILDING

L. Shaff, of Wadena, Proves Lowest Bidder on Citizens' State Bank

A LITTLE UNDER $25,000

There Were Seven Bids—Three Being from Brainerd Contractors

The building committee of the board of directors of the Citizens' State Bank met Saturday afternoon and let the contract for the new building. The lowest bidder was L. Shaff, of Wadena and he received the contract on a bid of $24,984.00. The following were the bids:

C. B. Rowley, Brainerd.....	$ 28,000
L. Shaff, Wadena.....	24,984
Emil Johnson, Minneapolis.....	27,823
White Bros., Brainerd.....	34,879
A. Nelson, Perham.....	28,525
Larson & Larson, Crookston.....	29,900
E. Huseman, Brainerd.....	31,900

The brick and stone have not been finally determined upon, but the building will doubtless be of red brick with light stone trimmings. A contract was entered into with Mr. Shaff Saturday night and he will proceed to the work at once. The work of the excavating is nearly completed and there should be little or no delay in proceeding with the building.

BASE BALL NOTES

The Aitkin team will come down next Sunday and play the North Star Juniors on the grounds at the cedar yard.

New Tennis Racket.

A new tennis racket has been invented with a slot through the handle parallel to the flat side. It makes the racket more resilient and enables the player to give a faster serve. It is also excellent for ground strokes, as its flexibility adds strength. Then, too, these slotted rackets allow heavier weight wood to be used without making the racket heavier, another point in their favor. It looks as though they would become popular.

Taft's Favorite Flower.

The Rev. J. Frederick of Newport, Ky., vice president of the Evangelical Protestant Ministry alliance, wrote to William H. ## MAKING GOOD ROAD

Residents of Platte Lake and Roosevelt Are Setting Fast Pace for Rest of Country

F. C. Kerr, who was down through Roosevelt and Platte Lake a few days ago, reports that the residents of those towns are setting a fast pace in the matter of road making. The town of Platte Lake put in seven miles of fine road last year and are putting in nearly as much more this year. There is some poor road on the main thoroughfare between here and there and the local and county officers should at once see that this is put in good shape so that they can haul full loads of produce to Brainerd.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Dr. Bigger is at present the only avowed republican candidate for the legislature from the 46th district.

The leading prohibitionists of this county think that there will be 400 votes for Fisk and Brooks polled in Crow Wing county at the coming election. The delusion will vanish immediately after the vote is counted.

The first Indians with blueberries for sale arrived in town this morning.

Charles DuBois, and Miss Rose Long, both of this city, were married at the M. E. parsonage on the 20th instant.

Miss Kitty Marks was quite seriously injured yesterday morning by being thrown from a wagon onto a corduroy road.

C. F. Kindred has sold the stone which he had hauled to build the new block to the parties who are rebuilding the burned district.

The Crow Wing county prohibitionists met in convention on Tuesday, July 17, and elected the following delegates to the state convention: Felix Graham, Rev. I. Bergstrom, Rev. J. A. Rowell, P. G. Fogelstrom, and Mrs. C. J. Veon, all of Brainerd and Rev. O. R. Jenks, of Ft. Ripley.

Wm. Brockway, the genial clerk and son of W. S. Brockway, is spending a few days' vacation at the home of his sister, Mrs. H. A. Simmons, of Minneapolis.

"Tony" Algrim, who received quite a serious injury to his hand a few weeks ago, is able to be at work again.

Howard Baker, who has been rusticated in Livingston, Mont., for a few months past, is again in his old place in Hawkins Bros. meat market.

Eugene Daniels, formerly an engineer on the A. T. & S. F. R. R., and son-in-law of W. S. Brockway, arrived here Thursday. We understand he will go into the grocery business as a partner to Mr. Brockway.

The city and county appropriated $200 to be spent on East Oak street under the supervision of Geo. W. Holland and Leon E. Lum.

Several new brick blocks are going up on the burned district west of Fifth street. Among them are two hotels, one being built by John Bubar and one by J. M. Gray, a saloon by Mr. Gray, a building by Mr. Kelliher, and a new livery stable.

SURVIVORS OF THE ATTACK

Ten Men Who Participated in the Defense of the Famous Old Fort Ridgely, Still Living

Under date of June 16th, Secretary C. N. Cosgrove of the state fair is in receipt of a letter from O. G. Wall, editor and publisher of the Friday Harbor Journal, of Friday Harbor, Washington.

Mr. Wall is one of ten men now alive who helped defend Fort Ridgely against the Sioux in August of 1862. It is believed that he is preparing to publish a book on the subject, and he is in possession of more accurate data on the subject than any one now living. The letter is published herewith, and his suggestion will be acted upon at the next meeting of the board of managers of the state fair:

Friday Harbor, Wash., June 16, 1908.

C. N. Cosgrove, Esq., Secretary.

Dear Sir: You have mailed to me a copy of the State Fair News, by which I see you are to reproduce the attack on Fort Ridgely. Of the original Company B, Fifth Minnesota, stationed at Fort Ridgely at the time of the massacre, only ten are now living, and just half of these were with Capt. Marsh at the Redwood Ferry disaster on the day of the massacre at the Lower or Redwood agency. Four of these men reside in Minnesota, two in Iowa, one in Kansas, one in Chicago, one in North Dakota and two on this coast. Capt. Gere, who commanded Fort Ridgely after the outbreak until reinforcements came, and Lieut. Bishop, who conducted the little retreating force from the Ferry disaster after Marsh lost his life, are still living. If you could assemble this remnant for the state fair it would be indeed an interesting feature and addition to the attack, and I do not believe the task would be an expensive or impossible one.

Yours truly,
O. G. WALL.

WORK PROGRESSING ON NEW HATCHERY

The Work on the Dams at the New Deerwood Fish Hatchery is Progressing Finely

WAITING FOR STEEL GATES

Excavation is Completed and Cement Work on New Dams will Begin Soon

J. P. Saunders, superintendent of the new state fish hatchery at Deerwood, was in the city over Sunday. Mr. Saunders states that the work on the hatchery is progressing finely. The excavations for the dams are completed and the first carload of cement is expected at Deerwood daily. They are also awaiting the arrival of the steel gates which will be placed in the dams. S. F. Fullerton, the state superintendent of fisheries is coming up in a few days to oversee the work of putting in the foundations to the dams. There will be two of these dams. One will be 44 feet in length and one will be 55 feet long. There will be a head of about 8 feet at the highest dam. The hatchery is located about a mile and a half south of Deerwood, on the Bay Lake road. Mr. Saunders has secured a cottage about twenty rods from the site of the hatchery for the use of himself and family during the construction of the buildings, and Mrs. Saunders is spending the summer there with him. The work on the buildings, etc., will probably be commenced early next spring, there being no possible doubt that the legislature next winter will provide funds for the work.

BRYAN ON PRESIDENCY

Democratic Nominee Defines His Idea of the Office.

BELIEVES IN ONE TERM.

Must Be in Sympathy With the People—Declares Our Government Not a One Man Affair—Favors Vice President as Ex Officio Cabinet Member.

William J. Bryan, Democratic nominee for the presidency, has written an article for Collier's Weekly on "My Conception of the Presidency." It reads as follows:

"The president's power for good or for harm is often overestimated. Our government is a government of checks and balances. Power is distributed among different departments, and each official works in co-operation with others. In the making of laws, for instance, the president joins with the senate and the house. He may recommend, but he is powerless to legislate except as a majority of the senate and the house concur with him. The senate and the house are also independent of each other, each having a veto over the other, and the president has a veto over both, except that the senate and house can by a two-thirds vote override the president's veto. The influence of the president over legislation is therefore limited. He shares responsibility with a large number of the people's representatives.

"Even in the enforcement of law he is hedged about by restrictions. He acts through an attorney general, whose appointment must be approved by the senate, and offenders against the law must be prosecuted in the courts, so that here, again, the responsibility is divided. In the making of important appointments, too, he must consult the senate and is of necessity compelled to exercise care and discretion. The most important requisite in a president, as in other officials, is that his sympathy shall be with the whole people rather than with any fraction of the population. He is constantly called upon to act in the capacity of a judge, deciding between the importunities of those who seek favors and the rights and interests of the public. Unless his sympathies are right the few are sure to have an advantage over the many, for the masses have no one to present their claims. They act only at elections and must trust to their representatives to protect them from all their foes.

"The president must have a broad knowledge of public questions and the ability to discern between the true and the false. He must be able to analyze conditions and to detect the sophistries that are always employed by those who seek unfair advantages. He must possess the moral courage to stand against the influences that are brought to bear in favor of special interests. In fact, the quality of moral courage is as essential in a public official as either right sympathies or a trained mind.

"A president must have counselors, and to make wise use of counselors he must be open to convictions. The president is committed by his platform to certain policies, and the platform is binding. He is also committed to certain principles of government, and these he is in duty bound to apply in all matters that come before him. But there is a wide zone in which he must act upon his own judgment, and here he ought to have the aid of intelligent, conscientious and faithful advisers. The law provides these, to a certain extent, in giving him a cabinet, and the vice president ought to be made a member of the cabinet ex officio. In order, first, that the president may have the benefit of his wisdom and knowledge of affairs and, second, that the vice president may be better prepared to take up the work of the president in case of a vacancy in the presidential office. There ought to be cordial relations also between the president and those who occupy positions of influence in the co-ordinate branches of the government, for our government is not a one man government, but a government in which the chosen representatives of the people labor together to give expression to the will of the voters.

"But the presidency is the highest position in the world, and its occupant is an important factor in all national matters. If he is a devout believer in our theory of government, recognizes the constitutional distribution of powers, trusts thoroughly in the people and fully sympathizes with them in their aspirations and hopes, he has an opportunity to do a splendid work. He occupies a vantage ground from which he can exert a wholesome influence in favor of each forward movement.

"The responsibilities of the office are so great that the occupant ought to be relieved of every personal ambition, save the ambition to prove worthy of the confidence of his countrymen. For this reason he ought to enter the position without thought or prospect of a second term.

"While the burdens of such an office are heavy and while the labors of the office are exacting and exhausting, the field of service is large, and, measuring greatness by service, a president, by consecrating himself to the public weal, can make himself secure in the affections of his fellow citizens while he lives and create for himself a permanent place in his nation's history."

SINGING ON FOURTH OF JULY.

Woman Advocates Movement to Do Away With Fireworks.

Deploring the injuries and deaths that occur each year on July 4, Mrs. Luther D. Wishard, who is prominent in New York and Montclair (N. J.) society, recently advocated the inauguration of a movement for the celebration of Independence day with song instead of fireworks.

"Each year sees a more vigorous protest against the harmful noise and dangers of powder explosives," she said, "which really is a form of heathen worship adopted in a Christian land to commemorate the birth of a nation. To change this way of desecrating the day will be difficult because the commercial spirit figures so largely in it, but with the growing sentiment of our better citizens this can, like other evils, be done away with. The substitute must be something intense, emotional, inspiring and at the same time wearing a holiday garb.

"That these requirements were not sufficiently met in the old celebrations made up of speeches, music and picnics and dinners is evidenced by the fact that they have fallen so widely into disuse. So let the substitute be one in which all those various types which walk our streets could participate—song, voicing patriotism. To sing into the hearts of Latins, Slavs, orientals, Africans and Anglo-Saxons the birth of freedom, its meaning and aim, would amalgamate and Americanize our population as no charitable privileges or legislation would do. What a millennium-like change it would seem if, instead of being awakened at midnight by powder explosions in the hands of small boys and rioters, we should hear the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" in strong, clear voices or at dawn should look out on an impromptu procession of citizens, increasing as it marched, singing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee."

Mrs. Wishard wants Montclair to take the initiative in the movement next year.

There are two directly opposite reasons why some people cannot obtain credit. One is because they are not known and the other because they are.

PAINT TO PREVENT RUST.

Roman Process, Lost For Many Years, Will Preserve Iron Ship Plates.

According to the English newspapers, Inspector Simpson of the Blackburn fire brigade in Lancashire has discovered a liquid which will prevent the deterioration of iron and all other material liable to rust. The new preservative is a paint, the principle of which is believed by experts to be an old Roman secret which has been lost to the world for 700 years.

The liquid, it is declared, will be of great value to shipping, as it will not only prevent the "weeping" or deterioration of inner skins of iron ships, which causes so much damage to cargoes, and applied to the bottom plates it not only prevents oxidation, but allows no marine growths or parasites to attach themselves, while producing and maintaining a glasslike surface, which the discoverer asserts will add several knots to the speed of Atlantic liners and warships.

Quebec's Magnificent Pageant

Grand Panoramic Drama, Most Spectacular Feature of Tercentenary Celebration Commemorating the Founding of Canada's Famous Old City.
Historic Scenes Re-enacted.

By FREDERICK R. TOOMBS.

THE French have taken Quebec. Once more the founders and original holders of the famous old Canadian city are supreme within its precincts. Once more the haughty Briton has found himself compelled to rest content with only secondary consideration in the historic metropolis of the past. The fleur-de-lis, "the lilies of France," those medieval encouragements to valor, are seen on every side throughout English as well as French Canada.

All this sounds highly warlike. France has made another conquest of the territory along the St. Lawrence? Yes, but this latter day conquest is a conquest of peace. Not a drop of blood, but a tidal wave of good will, has flowed, all in honor of the coming three hundredth anniversary of the landing of the great French explorer, Samuel de Champlain, at what is now Quebec and the consequent founding of the city. Of course such a celebration must necessarily be a French celebration, even though occurring in British territory, but the two nations have joined with equal enthusiasm in the project and for the present purposes are practically one race.

The tercentenary celebration opens July 20, and in addition to the truly magnificent programme of events arranged there will occur probably the greatest gathering of notable personages of many nations that Canada has ever known. So great an international significance is accredited the Quebec anniversary that Edward VII. is sending his royal highness the Prince of Wales, with Prince Arthur, only son of the Duke of Connaught, and an imposing suit, on board a swift armored cruiser as his government's representative. President Roosevelt

Lawrence and the arrival of that daring voyageur, Jacques Cartier, who set forth with a hardy crew of pious Bretons from St. Malo, Brittany, in 1535, discovered the St. Lawrence river and implanted on its banks before the wondering gaze of the Indians of Stadin and Stadacone (afterward Quebec) the cross and the fleur-de-lis.

Cartier was a voyageur, a pathfinder among woods and waters, while Champlain, who came later, was more than that. He was in addition a builder of settlements, a homemaker, a founder of a permanent base from which France was to conduct years of campaigns for supremacy over the vast territory and wonderful wealth of the new world. And so Champlain must be made the central figure of the commemorative exercises, for he was the founder of Quebec in July, 1608, on the site of the Indian encampment of Stadacone. About two years later he wrote proudly of Quebec as having attained a population of 200, Champlain's original force having numbered twenty-eight souls.

Champlain will be shown at the court of Henry of Navarre and rewarded for his exploits in the wars of the League and as navigator in the West Indies and La Cadie. Then a replica of Champlain's original ship, the Don de Die, with the lofty poop and ancient gear of the days of Sir Walter Raleigh and Sir Francis Drake, will laboriously make her way up the St. Lawrence to the very spot where, 300 years ago, Champlain himself stepped ashore.

Greeting From Booming Guns.

The ship will pass between rows of warships representing five different nations, which will greet her progress with deafening salutes from their powerful guns. Every man jack in the crews of these vessels will be stationed in the standing rigging and drawing back in affright at first at the appearance, sound and deadly effectiveness of the matchlocks of the French, the like of which they had never dreamed.

Other panoramic pictures will illustrate some of the great religious events which are closely interwoven in the history making epochs of Canada in general and Quebec in particular. The Ursuline nuns will arrive and receive welcome from the rejoicing populace, led by General Montgomery, knight of Malta. The Jesuit fathers also have their place in the scenes. Dollard des Ormeaux, the explorer and fighter, and his sixteen heroes of the Long Sault form the central figures of the ninth tableau. The celebrated denouement in the council chamber of the Chateau St. Louis has not been overlooked. Frontenac will receive the messenger from Sir William Phipps, commander of the attacking British forces, bearing a demand to surrender Quebec. Frontenac will repeat the famous answer, "Tell your master to expect a reply from the mouth of my cannon." The final tableau will be peculiarly reminiscent, for in it will appear the principal figures in the battle of the Plains of Abraham in September, 1759. Montcalm and De Levis of the French, Wolfe and Murray of the attacking British, will with their commands march and counter-march over the blood consecrated ground where the ancestors of many of the actual present participants fell and died.

In the third and fifth tableaux respectively will appear Francis I. of France and his court and King Henry IV. of France, his court and his chief adviser, Sully. This entire series of panoramas will be repeated on several different days.

Fine Naval Display at Night.

Other features of the thirteen days' programme will be processions through the streets of Quebec, exercises before the Champlain statue, receptions of the official guests, speech by the Prince of Wales, renditions of sacred and secular music, military band concerts, regattas on the river, receptions on board the warships, dedication of the battlefield of the Plains of Abraham by the prince, official ball at Parliament House given by the government of the province of Quebec, naval display at night by the combined fleet, planting of a tree in Victoria park by the prince, speech by Vice President Fairbanks, parades of Canadian clubs and societies, immense fireworks displays and speech by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, premier of Canada.

The magnitude and scope of the tercentenary celebration, the transatlantic voyage of the heir to the British throne and of other dignitaries to take part in it and the keen general interest taken in it by great nations indicate that the anniversary commemorated has unusual significance, an import far deeper than merely nominal consideration would reveal. And such is really the fact. The history of Quebec is largely the history of Canada. The city, its founders and developers have wielded an influence in international affairs that they did not reckon, that in their times they could not estimate. Some keen writers there are who aver that in American history Quebec should rank with Jamestown and Plymouth in importance as a birthplace of American liberties, owing presumably to the powerful influence exerted from Quebec prior to the Revolution in territory now included in the United States.

Quebec's visitors will be well cared for. A "city of tents," with accommodations for 15,000 people, will supplement the preparations made by hotel and boarding house keepers.

Besieged Five Times.

Quebec was long the key to the possession of the entire Dominion of Canada. It became a part of the unwritten law of nations that whoever held Quebec became entitled to possession of the surrounding territory. This accounts for the fact that Quebec has been under siege or prolonged and concerted attack no less than five times—a record comparing with those of some of the famous war towns of continental Europe. For over a century Quebec was the center of military operations of France and England in the new world, as well as the educational, religious and political center. In its value as a strategic point Quebec is unsurpassed by any city in North America. By successfully resisting the Continental army under General Montgomery and Benedict Arnold in 1771 Quebec saved all of the present Dominion of Canada to Great Britain. It was the city that opened the way to the establishment of the great trading posts in the wildernesses that were to earn vast fortunes for kings, princes and nobility. At Quebec is the Basilica, the mother church of Roman Catholicism in America. It was in Quebec that dwelt and ruled, with their retinues, at the Chateau St. Louis, the governors sent over from France and England. The city has long boasted of one of the strongest natural fortifications in the world—the Citadel, crowning the city, well described as the Gibraltar of America, which was designed by Lord Wellington. Quebec was at one time the capital and largest city of the vast territory, and it founded and fostered the great industries that have utilized the immeasurable wealth of the Dominion—ship building, lumbering, manufacturing and mining.

From the foregoing it may readily be realized why the tercentenary of this coveted city is considered to be of primary international importance. In short, Quebec gave Canada to France; that is why the French revere, as Dickens wrote, "the city suspended in mid-air." Quebec gave Canada to Britain; that is why the British cherish the city as one of the rarest jewels in the crown of empire.

Graceful Homage to Champlain.

Now will appear the actual living descendants of great men of Quebec's past, who will do graceful homage to Champlain. The present Marquis de Montcalm will be one of these, and another will be Lord Lovat, direct descendant of the gallant colonel and chief of the Fraser highlanders, which distinguished themselves at the battle of the Plains of Abraham.

Following will be shown a panorama of Champlain's first battle with the Iroquois, the superstitious natives

BRYAN IS INTERESTED

Gives Especial Attention to Taft's Statement.

ASKS HIM TO GO FURTHER

Would Have Republican Candidate Announce That All Large Individual Campaign Contributions Would Be Made Public Before Election.

Lincoln, Neb., July 20.—The statement of Judge Taft at Hot Springs, Va., that the Republican national committee would not accept any contributions from corporations in his campaign was viewed here with more than ordinary interest. Mr. Bryan gave it his especial attention. In fact, so impressed was he with the announcement that he broke his usual silence and dictated the following statement:

"We welcome him to this advanced ground and bid him to go further and announce that all individual contributions above a reasonable minimum would be made known before the election."

The fact that it was Sunday did not deter a number of persons from going out to Fairview. The stream of visitors began while Mr. Bryan was at church. The most important caller was Mayor James Dahlman of Omaha, who was closeted with Mr. Bryan for some time, but neither of them would discuss the subject matter of the conversation. Mayor Dahlman later returned to Omaha.

Frank S. Monett, former Republican attorney general of Ohio, who conducted the prosecutions in that state against the Standard Oil company and later was employed by the interstate commerce commission to gather material on which to base the government suits, arrived here and held a lengthy conference with Mr. Bryan.

Monett Will Support Bryan.

Mr. Monett announced that it is his purpose to actively support Mr. Bryan in Ohio in the campaign and will make numerous speeches in behalf of the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Monett said that he was authorized by Mr. Bryan to state that because of the government's dereliction in prosecuting the alleged wool combine, whose headquarters he claims are in Ohio, Mr. Bryan had announced that if elected to the presidency he would at once put all the machinery of the government to work to destroy any combination that may exist.

"It will be his policy," said Mr. Monett, "to destroy the wool monopoly that prevents competition as promptly as the courts and himself can do it. The American Woolen company has destroyed, so far as the producer is concerned, the entire benefit supposed to inure from the protection on wool."

Mr. Bryan and Mr. Monett were agreed that the Sherman anti-trust law as it stands today is sufficient for any anti-trust action necessary, but that the government for some unknown reason refuses to act.

Another caller on Mr. Bryan was E. H. Moore of Youngstown, O., who was chairman of the last Democratic convention. He declined to discuss the nature of his visit, beyond the fact that he had talked about the campaign generally.

STRANGE MURDER CASE.

Woman Shot to Death and Her Daughter Wounded.

New York, July 20.—A strange murder case developed when officials of Hackensack, N. J., in examining the body of Mrs. Otella Eberhard, which was found lying on the railroad tracks near Coalberg, N. J., discovered bullet wounds. A passing train had cut the body in two. Otella Eberhard, a daughter of the dead woman, was wounded three times by bullets.

The police are hunting for August Eberhard, a nephew of the murdered woman, believing that he may know something of the crime.

Mrs. Eberhard and her daughter arrived from Vienna last Thursday on the invitation of August Eberhard, her nephew. The girl states that there was an understanding that August was to marry her. Because of the heat, Miss Eberhard says she and her mother were invited by August Eberhard to go to Roghelle park. They wandered around there until evening, when a shower came up and in the darkness trying to find their way, they stumbled over a railroad track. At the Coalberg coal pockets the girl saw a flash between two cars and heard a revolver shot, followed by a series of shots. She started to run and felt that she was hit. Consciousness left her then.

Recovering consciousness shortly afterward, she found her way to a farmhouse, where inmates bound up her wounds and escorted her into Hackensack.

Miss Eberhard says her mother had $2,200 in United States currency and $300 in German notes when they left for their excursion. The $2,200 was missing when the body was found. The German money was untouched.

Walker in Jail.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 20.—William F. Walker, the absconding bank treasurer of the New Britain (Conn.) savings bank, arrived here from San Diego and was put in jail, where he spent the night. Walker declined to make any statement. He will be taken East.

VICTORS IN OLYMPIC GAMES

How Clubmates of Flanagan and Sheppard Regard Their Triumphs.

New York athletes generally and Irish-American Athletic club members particularly have had a general jollification over the news concerning the success of John Flanagan, the hammer thrower, and Melvin Sheppard, the runner, in the first finals decided in the Olympic sports in London.

While the wearers of the "winged fist" and many other close students of athletics anticipated the victory of Flanagan in his favorite game, the general excellence of Sheppard's work in both heat and final of the 1,500 meter race was a much discussed topic.

William L. Jones, a well known New York devotee of amateur sport, when he read the cable announcing the success of his protégé, said:

"It only bears out what I've always said about Melvin's running, and his world's championship in the 1,500 meters will be supplemented by a victory in the 800 meters, which is the event he went over to win. While I have always considered him the greatest middle distance runner I've ever seen, barring Lon Myers, I did not think him quite up to taking the measure of the world's best runners, as he has just done."

I look to see him put up a time performance in the 800 meters. It was certainly a hardship for our team to have such men as Sheppard and Halstead drawn against each other in the trials. I feel confident our point column suffered because of the seeming unfairness of the draw, as Halstead's work in the Philadelphia tryouts, where he did 4 minutes 15 seconds for 1,500 meters, seemed to assure him a victory against Sheppard or any other runner.

When Melvin comes home I will endeavor to have him assail the half mile figures of Kilpatrick—1 minute 53.25 seconds—and the 1,000 yard mark of Myers—2 minutes 13 seconds—both of which have stood attack for thirteen and twenty-seven years respectively.

At the Irish-American club's New York city home there was open house, and even the competitive enemies of the "winged fist" were well received.

Patrick J. Conway, the organization's president, to a bunch of athletes interested in the success of the team, individually and collectively, said:

"While our men are showing up in fine style, boys, it's all for the good of the stars and stripes and only what I expected. Of course I rather looked for John to duplicate his fine work at Torrington last month, when he threw the hammer 175 feet 1 1/2 inches, a world's record in all likelihood when he gets or his native heath he'll get it out 185 feet. A distance I've seen him accomplish many times in practice. You know our boys intend to tour Ireland after the Olympic."

John Flanagan had a novel experience a short time ago as he was leaving New York to compete at some athletic games. Following the usual custom of weight throwers, he carried along with him his own weight, a sixteen pound iron ball, with a thirty-six inch wire handle attached. On the way Flanagan met some friends, and they called in at a "cold tea house" to enjoy a couple of tall ones.

Being painfully modest, John decided to leave the hammer outside, so that the folks inside would not get wise to the fact that he was a great athlete. A few minutes later along came a party of Italians talking in their native tongue.

Suddenly from out of their midst came a fearful whoop, and the bunch scattered like wildfire, seeking places of safety. One rushed into the cafe where John and his party were standing and shrieked at the top of his lungs:

"Bigga da bomb!" "Black Hand!" "Runna fast!"

With that he disappeared and was up the street in a jiffy.

Flanagan and his friends stood in breathless silence waiting for the roof of the building to be blown off, but as no explosion came one of the number took courage and peeped out of the door to see what had caused the Italians to stampede. There, beside the entrance, lay the cause of all the furore—Flanagan's sixteen pound hammer.

The Italians had mistaken the iron ball for a bomb and the long wire handle for a fuse, so of course the laugh was on John.

St. Paul Boy Drowned.

St. Paul, July 20.—Frank Carrier, one of three orphan boys living at 543 Brunson street, was drowned while bathing in a cut on the line of the Soo railroad extension at Mississippi and Acker streets. The body was taken from the water by two soldiers. A physician was called, but the youth was declared to be dead.

Minneapolis Man a Suicide.

Minneapolis, July 20.—Louis Larson, thirty-five years old, a laborer, shot and instantly himself at 4222 Nicollet avenue. Despondency at failure to secure work is said to be the cause of the deed. He used a large caliber rifle, the bullet going through his head.

Murder and Suicide.

Frankfort, Ind., July 20.—Clarence Jones, a young business man, shot and killed Claude Pruitt, a young and well known farmer, at Hillsburg and then sent a bullet into his own brain and fell dead. The men had been drinking and it is alleged the shooting was the result of an argument over a card game.

Ends Three Lives.

Portland, Ore., July 20.—David Connell, chef at the Arlington club in this city, shot to death Mrs. Dolly Sharp and a man whose name has not yet been learned. Connell was pursued to his room, where he locked himself in and blew out his own brains. Jealousy is supposed to have been the cause.

NEW FLYING MACHINE PLAN.

Lander of London Has Rudderless One That Will Rise Without a Run.

A. H. S. Lander of London, England, who has been studying aviation for fifteen years, is building a machine which, he believes, will be a notable improvement on all other flying devices. One of its main features, according to Mr. Lander, is that it will rise without a preliminary run.

It has two independent motors and no rudder. The axes of the propellers are placed at an angle to each other. The whole machine is much smaller than others.

Mr. Lander has been told that it resembles the Wright machine in some of its features. He says that if what he has heard of the Wright brothers' machine is true, they are nearer success than anybody else has yet been.

Captain McCrea Dead.

New York, July 20.—Captain Henry McCrea of the United States navy, who was in command of the battleship Georgia during the cruise of the North Atlantic squadron to the Pacific coast, died of Bright's disease in the naval hospital, Brooklyn. He had been ill since June 22. He was fifty-seven years of age.

THE DOWNFALL OF ZELAYA

Planned by President Cabrera of Guatemala.

REVOLUTION IN HONDURAS

Said to Have Been Merely a Preliminary Step in the Plot—President Figueroa of Salvador Said to Have Been Implicated in Conspiracy.

Panama, July 20.—Central Americans who are now in Panama and who are greatly interested in the situation brought about by the revolutionary movement in Honduras, are convinced that the presidents of several of the republics are involved in the affair, the ramifications of which reach far back.

According to one of the most prominent of these Central Americans, President Cabrera, Guatemala, following the last conspiracy against his life, of which he believed President Zelaya of Nicaragua to be the promoter, conceived a plan for Zelaya's downfall. Fearing that without aid he could not succeed in this, he endeavored to interest his neighbor, President Figueroa of Salvador, who had an old grudge against Zelaya, whom he charged with giving openly some time ago, men, arms and money to Dr. Prudencio Alfaro for the purpose of invading Salvador.

For a time President Figueroa was undecided, but eventually General Manuel Bonilla, ex-president of Honduras, who was deposed by the revolution promoted also by Zelaya, appeared on the scene. He recommended that they begin operations by replacing him as president of Honduras, this merely as a preliminary step; later all three republics, Honduras, Guatemala and Salvador, he suggested could join forces in an attack on Nicaragua. Prior to this, the Honduran confidential envoy in Guatemala, General Miguel O. Bustillo, had been imprisoned, it is believed, for the purpose of precipitating war with Honduras, but the challenge remained unanswered.

Revolution Then Ordered.

Honduras, however, began preparations and increased its army by 10,000 men, placing a strong guard along the frontiers. A revolutionary movement was then ordered by those who were endeavoring to bring about a change in the government of Honduras, the revolutionists invading that country from the Guatemalan and Salvadoran frontiers.

President Zelaya was taken by surprise at the movement and caught unprepared, but he immediately saw the peril to his government. Undoubtedly to help as much as possible the Honduran government, Zelaya increased the Nicaraguan army and placed arms in the hands of Salvadoran refugees, among whom were a number of prominent and popular leaders, and quietly awaited developments.

President Figueroa, knowing that only a spark would start a powerful revolutionary fire in his dominion, was alarmed at the determined action of Honduras and Nicaragua, and refused further to aid the revolutionists in Honduras. In the meantime the heads of both Honduras and Nicaragua promptly filed charges in the Central American court of justice against Salvador and Guatemala.

AWAITING THE PRINCE.

City of Quebec Is in a Flutter of Anticipation.

Quebec, Que., July 20.—This quaint old city is in a flutter of anticipation over the arrival of his royal highness the Prince of Wales, who will sail into the harbor next Wednesday aboard the new British battleship the Indomitable, to inaugurate the three hundredth anniversary of the founding of Quebec by the French navigator, Champlain.

Great masses of troops are being assembled here to do honor to the future monarch and to take part in the Champlain exercises. The harbor already presents a stirring naval spectacle, with the British battleships Exmouth, Albermarle, Russell and Duncan, and the cruisers Venus and Arrogant, the French battleships Leon Gambetta and Admiral Aube, which will soon be joined by the United States battleship New Hampshire and later by the Prince of Wales' squadron the Indomitable, Minotaur and other ships.

Although the founding of Quebec is the primary purpose of the celebration, the coming of the Prince of Wales, Field Marshal Lord Roberts, the Duke of Norfolk and many other notable personages is proving of far greater interest than the historical exercises. The prince was in Canada before, when a young naval officer commanding the gunboat Thrush. But this is his first visit since he reached his exalted rank of Prince of Wales and future king. He will be quartered in the citadel, a grim old fortress perched 400 feet above the St. Lawrence.

The citadel is surrounded by old time moats and bastions, in the midst of which is the governor general's residence, which will be the royal establishment during the prince's stay. Lord Roberts is also quartered in the citadel. Vice President Fairbanks, who is to represent the United States government, is expected to arrive in time to be present at the welcome extended to the Prince of Wales.

Among the other notable figures gathered here are the representatives and lineal descendants of Wolfe and Montcalm, the heroes of the battle on the Plains of Abraham.

The formal opening of the week's exercises began Sunday with a monster parade of the young French-Canadians who assembled at the foot of Champlain's monument, heaping it with flowers and singing hymns in his praise.

TO SUCCEED SHERMAN.

Loudenslager to Be Chairman of Congressional Campaign Committee.

Washington, July 20.—Representative Henry C. Loudenslager of New Jersey will be the chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee to succeed James Sherman, candidate for vice president. Henry Casson of Wisconsin, sergeant-at-arms of the house, will be chosen secretary of the committee to take the place of Mr. Loudenslager.

Ever since the Chicago convention it has been the plan for Mr. Sherman to retire from the committee, and that either Mr. Loudenslager or Representative Tawney of Minnesota would succeed him. Speaker Cannon and others have sought to induce Mr. Sherman to remain chairman, but without avail.

The executive committee of the congressional committee will meet at Utica on Aug. 3 to receive Mr. Sherman's resignation and to elect Mr. Loudenslager and Mr. Casson.

LURLINE THE VICTOR.

Wins Yacht Race From San Pedro, Cal., to Honolulu.

Honolulu, July 20.—After a computation of the time made by each vessel and taking out the handicap allowances, the officials declared the yacht Lurline of the South Coast Yacht club of Southern California the victor in the transpacific yacht race from San Pedro, Cal., to this port.

The Lurline arrived here at 9:34 a. m. Saturday and the other three yachts arrived Sunday within six hours of each other. The corrected time of the yachts was as follows: Lurline, 13 days, 21 hours, 31 minutes, 43½ seconds.

Gwendlyn J. I., Seattle Yacht club, 14 days, 4 hours, 7 minutes, 8½ seconds.

Lady Maud, San Diego Yacht club, 14 days, 16 hours, 37 minutes, 9½ seconds.

Hawaii, Hawaiian Yacht club, 14 days, 18 hours, 46 minutes.

IN COLORADO SPRINGS

Hitchcock Will Confer with Republican Leaders.

TO CARRY DOUBTFUL STATES

Taft's Campaign Manager Would Have States That Are Safely Republican Assist in Campaigning in Neighboring Commonwealths.

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 20.—Frank H. Hitchcock, chairman of the Republican national committee, has arrived here to consult with the members of the national committee and chairmen of Western state and territorial committees in a two days' conference. The men who are to meet Chairman Hitchcock are as follows:

Members of the National Committee—W. S. Sturgis, Arizona; Charles Cavender, Colorado; Senator William E. Borah, Idaho; David W. W. Mulvane, Kansas; Thomas C. Marshall, Montana; Victor Rosewater, Nebraska; S. Luna, New Mexico; James Kennedy, North Dakota; Cash M. Cade, Oklahoma; Ralph E. Williams, Oregon; Thomas Thorson, South Dakota; C. Allyon, Texas; William Spry, representing C. B. Looze, Utah; Robert L. McCormick, Washington, and George R. Paxton, Wyoming.

State Chairmen—Herbert R. Toney, Arizona; George Stone, California; John F. Vivian, Colorado; James H. Brady, Idaho; J. T. Moore, Kansas; Fletcher Maddox, Montana; William Hayward, Nebraska; George F. Turrittin, Nevada; H. O. Bursum, New Mexico; L. B. Hanna, North Dakota; Chase Hunter, Oklahoma; W. M. Cade, Oregon; W. C. Cook, South Dakota; Cecil A. Lyon, Texas; Wesley K. Walton, Utah; A. E. Statler, representing Washington, and Vice Chairman Gramm, representing Charles W. Burdick, Wyoming.

The national committeemen from California and Nevada were unable to come. Senator Warren of Wyoming and a number of other Republicans not members of the committee also will be here.

Hitchcock's Plan Is New.

Nothing of the kind like the undertaking by Mr. Hitchcock was ever attempted in the history of national campaigns in any party. He announced on his arrival here that it would be his purpose to have states which are certainly Republican assist in campaigning in neighboring states, which may be doubtful. To that end he is bringing the Western leaders together. There will be a general conference, at which the various leaders will exchange ideas and formulate a system whereby one state may draw on the political resources of another. After that Mr. Hitchcock will hold individual conferences with the representatives of each of the seventeen states and territories which are sending men to the political gathering.

According to Chairman Hitchcock, there has been a lack of coherence between Western leaders in past campaigns, the representatives of each state doing their best to pile up Republican majorities, but not helping other states which have more difficult political battles to fight. He said that he wanted to broaden the responsibilities of each of the Western Republican leaders with a view of carrying the whole Western region for Taft and Sherman.

When asked what Western states he regards as safely Republican and what ones he classes as doubtful, Mr. Hitchcock said:

"I have determined not to make any predictions at any time. That will be my policy throughout the campaign. We won't neglect any territory where there is bare chance of victory either North, South, East or West, but I shall not indulge in forecasts."

A delegation from Denver arrived here to see Mr. Hitchcock and urged the selection of that city as the place of establishing a Western headquarters for the distribution of campaign material and assignment of speakers. Salt Lake City is being considered also, but no decision will be made until after Mr. Hitchcock returns to the East.

MEMBER OF LABOR UNION

Judge Taft Belongs to International Society of Steam Shovel Men.

Hot Springs, Va., July 20.—When Judge William H. Taft goes to Cincinnati to be notified of his nomination for the presidency by the Republican party he will receive notice of his election as a member of a labor organization. He has been elected a member of the International Society of Steam Shovel Men, of which T. J. Dolan of Chicago is president. Mr. Taft had a good deal to do with the steam shovel men at Panama. His notification of his membership in the union will be made on July 29. He will probably leave here next Saturday for Cincinnati and may not return until the following Saturday.

turn until the following Saturday. Mr. Taft has concluded that it will not be possible for him to attend any state fairs before the election. After Sept. 1 he expects to remain in Cincinnati until the election is over.

Willis Moore, chief of the weather bureau, is coming here. Mr. Moore has some ideas concerning the treatment of the labor problem which he desires to talk over with Mr. Taft.

Judge Taft will open court at Germantown, five miles from Hot Springs, and will deliver an address on the administration of justice.

NOT DISHEARTENED.

American Athletes Expect to Win Championship in Field Sports.

London, July 20.—The United Kingdom, which before the opening of the Olympic games at the stadium had a big lead over all other nations in the number of wins for supremacy in all sports, most of which, however, were scored in competition in which no other nation took part, almost doubled that lead during the past week, and furthermore overtook the American team in the count for track and field events. But this has not served to dishearten the American athletes and those of the countrymen who accompanied them to England. James E. Sullivan, the commissioner representing the United States, said:

"We have come here to win the championship in field sports and we are going to do it despite the handicap from which we are suffering. This handicap has been two fold. In the first place, the men came to a country having the worst possible climate for those unused to it and this affected them very seriously.

"The other handicap is the manner in which the heat drawings have been conducted. The drawings have gone against us in the 1,500-meter races when our best men, Sheppard and Halstead, were pitted against each other and the same thing occurred in the 800-meter event. Sheppard and Halstead were drawn against each other for a second time. Brownlow and Ramey also have been put into a heat together in this event, while in two other heats of the 800-meter race not a single American has been drawn. It is either extraordinary bad luck or the manner in which the drawings have been made that has resulted in such unfavorable conditions for the Americans. We have tried to figure out how the drawings are conducted, but have not been able to get anything from the Amateur Athletic association officials except the reply 'the drawings have been made in the usual way.'

Ends Life With Acid.

Decorah, Ia., July 20.—David Coughlin, residing at Freeport, three miles east of Decorah, committed suicide by swallowing carbolic acid. Coughlin of late had been drinking and his wife left him. Shortly before taking his life he asked a neighbor, George Kirkland, to come to his home, and when Kirkland entered the house, Coughlin swallowed the acid.

Enormous Damage From Storms.

Madrid, July 20.—Violent storms which have been raging in the valley of the Ebro have done enormous damage.

Found in a Pool of Blood.

Columbus, Ind., July 20.—The body of Mrs. Carrie H. Percifield was found in a pool of blood west of the city. John Underwood, a street car motor man, was arrested on suspicion.

BALLOON RACE ENDED.

Colonel Coey's Chicago Wins Aeronautic Contest.

St. Paul, July 20.—The great international balloon race, the third ever held in the United States, is over, with the mammoth Chicago, piloted by its owner, Colonel Charles A. Coey of Chicago, the winner, and the America, the St. Paul balloon, piloted by Captain Percy S. Hudson and N. P. Wild, second. The United States of Minneapolis finished third, the champion Pommern fourth and the baby King Edward fifth.

Although fourth in the long distance race, the Pommern was second in the endurance tests, remaining in the air 16 hours and 15 minutes.

The Chicago stayed in the air 17 hours and 20 minutes, covering a distance of 85 miles and landing in a field three miles east of Blooming Prairie, Minn.

The American, which finished second, sailed 70 miles to Owatonna, Minn., remaining in the air 4 hours and 42 minutes and landing in a field two miles east of the village.

The United States, sailing for 4 hours and 15 minutes, covered a distance of 62 miles, coming down at West Concord, Minn.

The Pommern, remaining in the air 16 hours and 15 minutes, traversed a distance of only 61 miles owing to shifting air currents and landed eight miles east of Warsaw, Minn.

The King Edward, which finished last, remained in the air only 1 hour and 10 minutes, landing three miles south of Hampton, Minn., a distance of twenty-nine miles.

All the trips were attended by the best fortune and the landings made without serious accident.

ANTI-FOREIGN FIGHT.

Said to Be Assuming Large Proportions in Mexico.

Mexico City, July 20.—The anti-foreign fight in Mexico is assuming large proportions and a bitter controversy over the question is being waged by the foreign and native press.

La Patria printed an article in which it proclaims the time ripe for a policy whose cry shall be, "Mexico for the Mexicans."

Most of the trade is directed against the "Yankees," a term of contempt used by Mexican editors in designating Americans.

Among other things La Patria declares that if Americans think the governments of Argentina, Chile or Brazil more enlightened than that of Mexico they should journey to those parts, the sooner the better.

After referring to the efforts on the part of foreigners against the proposed new mining law restricting incorporations in Mexico, the paper says:

"We repeat our attitude towards foreigners. We are not Boxers, but patriots, and when we make a given decision we make it not as against foreigners, but for the benefit of Mexico."

The paper summarizes the anti-foreign sentiment as follows, and champions all but the railroad measures:

"The minister of public works has submitted to the executive of the union the draft of a new mining law which incapacitates foreigners from acquisition of mines in the frontier states and foreign companies from acquiring mines in any part of the republic."

INEXPLICABLE SILENCE.

Maintained by Dutch Government Regarding Action of Castro.

London, July 20.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from The Hague comments on the Dutch government's

"extraordinary apathy in the face of President Castro's unwarrantable measures against the Curacao Dutch, which practically have annihilated the trade on that island."

The dispatch says that the latest mail from Curacao brings despairing complaints because of this inactivity on the part of the Dutch government and, continues the dispatch, while the responsible press demands that measures be taken to vindicate the honor of the Dutch flag, the government maintains an inexplicable silence.

Rain Puts Out Forest Fires.

Portland, Me., July 20.—A succession of drenching showers have served to put a stop to the great fires which have wrought damage amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars in the Maine woods during the past two weeks. While the loss has not been definitely estimated, it is believed that it will reach $500,000.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

One Month..... Forty Cents

One Year, strictly in advance, Four Dollars

Office in Dispatch Building on 6th St., opposite the Post Office.

Entered at the post-office at Brainerd, Minn.,
as second class matter.

MONDAY, JULY 20, 1908

THE Ashby Post has changed hands,
Chas. H. Davis succeeding Wm. Pen-
nar.

THE population of St. Paul is now
225,300, an increase of over 28,000 since 1905.

WITH $3,000,000 and over in the state
treasury Minnesota has more money on hand than at any one time before in
many years.

FRANK DAY has laid a wager of $10
that the next governor of Minnesota
will be a democrat. Frank has always been willing to take long chances.

SAMUEL GOMPERS, president of the American Federation of Labor, denies
having sent a cablegram to W. R.
Hearst urging him to support Bryan.

BRYAN promises the people of the
country that if they will elect him
president this time he will under no
circumstances ask them for their support for a second term. He thinks
four years under his leadership would
be all they could stand.

THE state treasury has just sent out
a small fortune in checks representing
the state bounty for wolves killed in
the various counties, the first bounty
payment since March and the largest in years. The amount was $13,548.50,
of which Marshall county receives
$1,567.50 for 244 wolves killed within its borders. The amount covers the killing of 1,265 full grown and 1,357
cub wolves.

THE Akeley Herald says: "The Sixth
district republicans are so well pleased with the work of Congressman Charles
A. Lindbergh that they would not tolerate any opposition to his candidacy
in the coming primary election. He was one of the few who stood for what
his constituents wanted in the recent session of congress. Mr. Lindbergh is fearless and faced the "Cannon" with out a quiver, give us more such men in
the national house and the reign of Cannon short and something will be accomplished."

THE Brainerd Tribune has been taken to task by Bro. Sheets, of the Long Prairie Argus, for its attitude toward Roosevelt, and in the last issue of the Tribune Bro. Halsted says: "It is hardly necessary to add that Bro. Sheets
is postmaster of Long Prairie and of course is doing nothing more than he
was expected when he was appointed to the office." The Tribune is in error
when it says Bro. Sheets is postmaster
of Long Prairie as he has held no office
since 1906 at which time he was succeeded by Judge Callahan, and the Tribune's conclusion that Sheet's judgment is warped by the salary he draws
is erroneous. The comment is the unbiased opinion of a man who is not contaminated by a government job as Bro.
Halsted seems to think.

The Dog Morland Painted.

Of the many stories of the seemingly
unconscious heroism of Newfoundland
dogs none is more interesting than the
one concerning the noble dog which
Morland afterward painted.

When William Phillips, bathing at Portsmouth, ventured beyond his depth
and was drowning, two boatmen, instead of setting out to his rescue, hag-
gled about a reward from the bystanders, who were urging them to go to Phillips' rescue. In the midst of the controversy a Newfoundland dog
leaped into the water and brought the
exhausted bather to shore. Mr. Phillips bought the dog from its owner, a butcher, and yearly gave a festival in
honor of his rescuer.

It was for Mr. Phillips that Morland
painted the dog's picture, and Barto-
lozzi engraved it.

CONTRACT LET FOR BANK BUILDING

L. Shaff, of Wadena, Proves Lowest Bidder on Citizens' State Bank

A LITTLE UNDER $25,000

There Were Seven Bids—Three Being from Brainerd Contractors

The building committee of the board of directors of the Citizens' State Bank met Saturday afternoon and let the contract for the new building. The lowest bidder was L. Shaff, of Wadena and he received the contract on a bid of $24,984.00. The following were the bids:

C. B. Rowley, Brainerd.....	$ 28,000
L. Shaff, Wadena.....	24,984
Emil Johnson, Minneapolis.....	27,823
White Bros., Brainerd.....	34,879
A. Nelson, Perham.....	28,525
Larson & Larson, Crookston.....	29,900
E. Huseman, Brainerd.....	31,900

The brick and stone have not been finally determined upon, but the building will doubtless be of red brick with light stone trimmings. A contract was entered into with Mr. Shaff Saturday night and he will proceed to the work at once. The work of the excavating is nearly completed and there should be little or no delay in proceeding with the building.

BASE BALL NOTES

The Aitkin team will come down next Sunday and play the North Star Juniors on the grounds at the cedar yard.

The North Star Juniors played the cedar yard team Sunday, defeating them by a score of 13 to 5. The feature of the game was the pitching of Dean White, who struck out 17 men. The North Star Juniors have now won 13 games out of 16 played.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

The committee on religious work met Saturday evening and mapped out a course for the coming year. Dr. Moorehouse will take charge of a class in Bible study, etc.

A FAMILY REUNION

Three Sisters of Mrs. Mary J. Kelehan Are in the City Enjoying a Family Reunion

Four sisters with homes widely separated, are enjoying a family reunion today at the home of Mrs. Mary J. Kelehan, 624 South Sixth street. They are Mrs. Kelehan, Mrs. Adeline LaBonte, and two children, of Albuquerque, N. M., who have been visiting Mrs. Kelehan for the past week, and Mrs. A. Lessard, of Littlefork and Mrs. Delia Bruland, of Minneapolis. It is some time since they have enjoyed the pleasure and they are making the most of it.

New Tennis Racket.

A new tennis racket has been invented with a slot through the handle parallel to the flat side. It makes the racket more resilient and enables the player to give a faster serve. It is also excellent for ground strokes, as its flexibility adds strength. Then, too, these slotted rackets allow heavier weight wood to be used without making the racket heavier, another point in their favor. It looks as though they would become popular.

Taft's Favorite Flower.

The Rev. J. Frederick of Newport, Ky., vice president of the Evangelical Protestant Ministry alliance, wrote to William H. Taft, the Republican nominee for president, asking him to name his favorite flower. He recently received a reply that the white carnation is to the former secretary of war the most beautiful bloom.

MAKING GOOD ROAD

Residents of Platte Lake and Roosevelt Are Setting Fast Pace for Rest of Country

F. C. Kerr, who was down through Roosevelt and Platte Lake a few days ago, reports that the residents of those towns are setting a fast pace in the matter of road making. The town of Platte Lake put in seven miles of fine road last year and are putting in nearly as much more this year. There is some poor road on the main thoroughfare between here and there and the local and county officers should at once see that this is put in good shape so that they can haul full loads of produce to Brainerd.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Dr. Bigger is at present the only avowed republican candidate for the legislature from the 46th district.

The leading prohibitionists of this county think that there will be 400 votes for Fisk and Brooks [polled in Crow Wing county at the coming] election. The delusion will vanish immediately after the vote is counted.

The first Indians with blueberries for sale arrived in town this morning.

Charles DuBois, and Miss Rose Long, both of this city, were married at the M. E. parsonage on the 20th instant.

Miss Kitty Marks was quite seriously injured yesterday morning by being thrown from a wagon onto a corduroy road.

C. F. Kindred has sold the stone which he had hauled to build the new block to the parties who are rebuilding the burned district.

The Crow Wing county prohibitionists met in convention on Tuesday, July 17, and elected the following delegates to the state convention: Felix Graham, Rev. I. Bergstrom, Rev. J. A. Rowell, P. G. Fogelstrom, and Mrs. C. J. Veon, all of Brainerd and Rev. O. R. Jenks, of Ft. Ripley.

Wm. Brockway, the genial clerk and son of W. S. Brockway, is spending a few days' vacation at the home of his sister, Mrs. H. A. Simmons, of Minneapolis.

"Tony" Algrim, who received quite a serious injury to his hand a few weeks ago, is able to be at work again.

Howard Baker, who has been rusticated in Livingston, Mont., for a few months past, is again in his old place in Hawkins Bros. meat market.

Eugene Daniels, formerly an engineer on the A. T. & S. F. R. R., and son-in-law of W. S. Brockway, arrived here Thursday. We understand he will go into the grocery business as a partner to Mr. Brockway.

The city and county appropriated $200 to be spent on East Oak street under the supervision of Geo. W. Holland and Leon E. Lum.

Several new brick blocks are going up on the burned district west of Fifth street. Among them are two hotels, one being built by John Bubar and one by J. M. Gray, a saloon by Mr. Gray, a building by Mr. Kelliher, and a new livery stable.

SURVIVORS OF THE ATTACK

Ten Men Who Participated in the Defense of the Famous Old Fort Ridgely, Still Living

Under date of June 16th, Secretary C. N. Cosgrove of the state fair is in receipt of a letter from O. G. Wall, editor and publisher of the Friday Harbor Journal, of Friday Harbor, Washington.

Mr. Wall is one of ten men now alive who helped defend Fort Ridgely against the Sioux in August of 1862. It is believed that he is preparing to publish a book on the subject, and he is in possession of more accurate data on the subject than any one now living. The letter is published herewith, and his suggestion will be acted upon at the next meeting of the board of managers of the state fair:

Friday Harbor, Wash., June 16, 1908. C. N. Cosgrove, Esq., Secretary.

Dear Sir: You have mailed to me a copy of the State Fair News, by which I see you are to reproduce the attack on Fort Ridgely. Of the original Company B, Fifth Minnesota, stationed at Fort Ridgely at the time of the massacre, only ten are now living, and just half of these were with Capt. Marsh at the Redwood Ferry disaster on the day of the massacre at the Lower or Redwood agency. Four of these men reside in Minnesota, two in Iowa, one in Kansas, one in Chicago, one in North Dakota and two on this coast. Capt. Gere, who commanded Fort Ridgely after the outbreak until reinforcements came, and Lieut. Bishop, who conducted the little retreating force from the Ferry disaster after Marsh lost his life, are still living. If you could assemble this remnant for the state fair it would be indeed an interesting feature and addition to the attack, and I do not believe the task would be an expensive or impossible one.

Yours truly,
O. G. WALL.

WORK PROGRESSING ON NEW HATCHERY

The Work on the Dams at the New Deerwood Fish Hatchery is Progressing Finely

WAITING FOR STEEL GATES

Excavation is Completed and Cement Work on New Dams will Begin Soon

J. P. Saunders, superintendent of the new state fish hatchery at Deerwood, was in the city over Sunday. Mr. Saunders states that the work on the hatchery is progressing finely. The excavations for the dams are completed and the first carload of cement is expected at Deerwood daily. They are also awaiting the arrival of the steel gates which will be placed in the dams. S. F. Fullerton, the state superintendent of fisheries is coming up in a few days to oversee the work of putting in the foundations to the dams. There will be two of these dams. One will be 44 feet in length and one will be 55 feet long. There will be a head of about 8 feet at the highest dam. The hatchery is located about a mile and a half south of Deerwood, on the Bay Lake road. Mr. Saunders has secured a cottage about twenty rods from the site of the hatchery for the use of himself and family during the construction of the buildings, and Mrs. Saunders is spending the summer there with him. The work on the buildings, etc., will probably be commenced early next spring, there being no possible doubt that the legislature next winter will provide funds for the work.

BRYAN ON PRESIDENCY

Democratic Nominee Defines His Idea of the Office.

BELIEVES IN ONE TERM.

Must Be in Sympathy With the People—Declares Our Government Not a One Man Affair—Favors Vice President as Ex-Officio Cabinet Member.

William J. Bryan, Democratic nominee for the presidency, has written an article for Collier's Weekly on "My Conception of the Presidency." It reads as follows:

"The president's power for good or for harm is often overestimated. Our government is a government of checks and balances. Power is distributed among different departments, and each official works in co-operation with others. In the making of laws, for instance, the president joins with the senate and the house. He may recommend, but he is powerless to legislate except as a majority of the senate and the house concur with him. The senate and the house are also independent of each other, each having a veto over the other, and the president has a veto over both, except that the senate and house can by a two-thirds vote override the president's veto. The influence of the president over legislation is therefore limited. He shares responsibility with a large number of the people's representatives.

"Even in the enforcement of law he is hedged about by restrictions. He acts through an attorney general, whose appointment must be approved by the senate, and offenders against the law must be prosecuted in the courts, so that here, again, the responsibility is divided. In the making of important appointments, too, he must consult the senate and is of necessity compelled to exercise care and discretion. The most important requisite in a president, as in other officials, is that his sympathy shall be with the whole people rather than with any fraction of the population. He is constantly called upon to act in the capacity of a judge, deciding between the importunities of those who seek favors and the rights and interests of the public. Unless his sympathies are right the few are sure to have an advantage over the many, for the masses have no one to present their claims. They act only at elections and must trust to their representatives to protect them from all their foes.

"The president must have a broad knowledge of public questions and the ability to discern between the true and the false. He must be able to analyze conditions and to detect the sophistries that are always employed by those who seek unfair advantages. He must possess the moral courage to stand against the influences that are brought to bear in favor of special interests. In fact, the quality of moral courage is as essential in a public official as either right sympathies or a trained mind.

"A president must have counselors, and to make wise use of counselors he must be open to convictions. The president is committed by his platform to certain policies, and the platform is binding. He is also committed to certain principles of government, and these he is in duty bound to apply in all matters that come before him. But there is a wide zone in which he must act upon his own judgment, and here he ought to have the aid of intelligent, conscientious and faithful advisers. The law provides these, to a certain extent, in giving him a cabinet, and the vice president ought to be made a member of the cabinet ex officio. In order, first, that the president may have the benefit of his wisdom and knowledge of affairs and, second, that the vice president may be better prepared to take up the work of the president in case of a vacancy in the presidential office. There ought to be cordial relations also between the president and those who occupy positions of influence in the co-ordinate branches of the government, for our government is not a one man government, but a government in which the chosen representatives of the people labor together to give expression to the will of the voters.

"But the presidency is the highest position in the world, and its occupant is an important factor in all national matters. If he is a devout believer in our theory of government, recognizes the constitutional distribution of powers, trusts thoroughly in the people and fully sympathizes with them in their aspirations and hopes, he has an opportunity to do a splendid work. He occupies a vantage ground from which he can exert a wholesome influence in favor of each forward movement.

"The responsibilities of the office are so great that the occupant ought to be relieved of every personal ambition, save the ambition to prove worthy of the confidence of his countrymen. For this reason he ought to enter the position without thought or prospect of a second term.

"While the burdens of such an office are heavy and while the labors of the office are exacting and exhausting, the field of service is large, and, measuring greatness by service, a president, by consecrating himself to the public weal, can make himself secure in the affections of his fellow citizens while he lives and create for himself a permanent place in his nation's history."

SINGING ON FOURTH OF JULY.

Woman Advocates Movement to Do Away With Fireworks.

Deploping the injuries and deaths that occur each year on July 4, Mrs. Luther D. Wishard, who is prominent in New York and Montclair (N. J.) society, recently advocated the inauguration of a movement for the celebration of Independence day with song instead of fireworks.

"Each year sees a more vigorous protest against the harmful noise and dangers of powder explosives," she said, "which really is a form of heathen worship adopted in a Christian land to commemorate the birth of a nation. To change this way of desecrating the day will be difficult because the commercial spirit figures so largely in it, but with the growing sentiment of our better citizens this can, like other evils, be done away with. The substitute must be something intense, emotional, inspiring and at the same time wearing a holiday garb.

"That these requirements were not sufficiently met in the old celebrations made up of speeches, music and picnics and dinners is evidenced by the fact that they have fallen so widely into disuse. So let the substitute be one in which all those various types which walk our streets could participate—song, voicing patriotism. To sing into the hearts of Latins, Slavs, orientals, Africans and Anglo-Saxons the birth of freedom, its meaning and aim, would amalgamate and Americanize our population as no charitable privileges or legislation would do. What a millennium-like change it would seem if, instead of being awakened at midnight by powder explosions in the hands of small boys and rioters, we should hear the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" in strong, clear voices or at dawn should look out on an impromptu procession of citizens, increasing as it marched, singing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee."

Mrs. Wishard wants Montclair to take the initiative in the movement next year.

There are two directly opposite reasons why some people cannot obtain credit. One is because they are not known and the other because they are.

PAINT TO PREVENT RUST.

Roman Process, Lost For Many Years, Will Preserve Iron Ship Plates.

According to the English newspapers, Inspector Simpson of the Blackburn fire brigade in Lancashire has discovered a liquid which will prevent the deterioration of iron and all other material liable to rust. The new preservative is a paint, the principle of which is believed by experts to be an old Roman secret which has been lost to the world for 700 years.

The liquid, it is declared, will be of great value to shipping, as it will not only prevent the "weeping" or deterioration of inner skins of iron ships, which causes so much damage to cargoes, and applied to the bottom plates it not only prevents oxidation, but allows no marine growths or parasites to attach themselves, while producing and maintaining a glasslike surface, which the discover asserts will add several knots to the speed of Atlantic liners and warships.

Quebec's Magnificent Pageant

Grand Panoramic Drama, Most Spectacular Feature of Tercentenary Celebration Commemorating the Founding of Canada's Famous Old City.
Historic Scenes Re-enacted.

By FREDERICK R. TOOMBS.
THE French have taken Quebec! Once more the founders and original holders of the famous old Canadian city are supreme within its precincts. Once more the haughty Briton has found himself compelled to rest content with only secondary consideration in the historic metropolis of the past. The fleurs-de-lis, "the lilies of France," those medieval encouragements to valor, are seen on every side throughout English as well as French Canada.

All this sounds highly warlike. France has made another conquest of the territory along the St. Lawrence? Yes, but this latter day conquest is a conquest of peace. Not a drop of blood, but a tidal wave of good will, has flowed, all in honor of the coming three hundredth anniversary of the landing of the great French explorer, Samuel de Champlain, at what is now Quebec and the consequent founding of the city. Of course such a celebration must necessarily be a French celebration, even though occurring in British territory, but the two nations have joined with equal enthusiasm in the project and for the present purposes are practically one race.

The tercentenary celebration opens July 20, and in addition to the truly magnificent programme of events arranged there will occur probably the greatest gathering of notable personages of many nations that Canada has ever known. So great an international significance is accredited the Quebec anniversary that Edward VII. is sending his royal highness the Prince of Wales, with Prince Arthur, only son of the Duke of Connaught, and an imposing suit, on board a swift armored cruiser as his government's representative. President Roosevelt

Lawrence and the arrival of that daring voyageur, Jacques Cartier, who set forth with a hardy crew of pious Bretons from St. Malo, Brittany, in 1535, discovered the St. Lawrence river and implanted on its banks before the wondering gaze of the Indians of Stadin and Stadacone (afterward Quebec) the cross and the fleur-de-lis.

Cartier was a voyageur, a pathfinder among woods and waters, while Champlain, who came later, was more than that. He was in addition a builder of settlements, a homemaker, a founder of a permanent base from which France was to conduct years of campaigns for supremacy over the vast territory and wonderful wealth of the new world. And so Champlain must be made the central figure of the commemorative exercises, for he was the founder of Quebec in July, 1608, on the site of the Indian encampment of Stadacone. About two years later he prouly of Quebec as having attained a population of 200, Champlain's original force having numbered twenty-eight souls.

Champlain will be shown at the court of Henry of Navarre and rewarded for his exploits in the wars of the League and as navigator in the West Indies and La Cadie. Then a replica of Champlain's original ship, the Don de Die, with the lofty poop and ancient gear of the days of Sir Walter Raleigh and Sir Francis Drake, will laboriously make her way up the St. Lawrence to the very spot where, 304 years ago, Champlain himself stepped ashore.

Greeting From Booming Guns.

The ship will pass between rows of warships representing five different nations, which will greet her progress with deafening salutes from their powerful guns. Every man jack in the crews of these vessels will be stationed in the standing rigging and drawing back in affright at first at the appearance, sound and deadly effectiveness of the matchlocks of the French, the like of which they had never dreamed.

Other panoramic pictures will illustrate some of the great religious events which are closely interwoven in the history making epochs of Canada in general and Quebec in particular. The Ursuline nuns will arrive and receive welcome from the rejoicing populace, led by General Montgomery, knight of Malta. The Jesuit fathers also have their place in the scenes. Dollard des Ormeaux, the explorer and fighter, and his sixteen heroes of the Long Sault form the central figures of the ninth tableau. The celebrated denouement in the council chamber of the Chateau St. Louis has not been overlooked. Frontenac will receive the messenger from Sir William Phipps, commander of the attacking British forces, bearing a demand to surrender Quebec. Frontenac will repeat the famous answer, "Tell your master to expect a reply from the mouth of my cannon." The final tableau will be particularly reminiscent, for in it will appear the principal figures in the battle of the Plains of Abraham in September, 1759. Montcalm and De Levis of the French, Wolfe and Murray of the attacking British, will with their commands march and countermarch over the blood consecrated ground where the ancestors of many of the actual present participants fell and died.

In the third and fifth tableaux respectively will appear Francis I. of France and his court and King Henry IV. of France, his court and his chief adviser, Sully. This entire series of panoramas will be repeated on several different days.

Fine Naval Display at Night.

Other features of the thirteen days' programme will be processions through the streets of Quebec, exercises before the Champlain statue, receptions of the official guests, speech by the Prince of Wales, renditions of sacred and secular music, military band concerts, regattas on the river, receptions on board the warships, dedication of the battlefield of the Plains of Abraham by the prince, official ball at Parliament House given by the government of the province of Quebec, naval display at night by the combined fleet, planting of a tree in Victoria park by the prince, speech by Vice President Fairbanks, parades of Canadian clubs and societies, immense fireworks displays and speech by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, premier of Canada.

The magnitude and scope of the tercentenary celebration, the transatlantic voyage of the heir to the British throne and of other dignitaries to take part in it and the keen general interest taken in it by great nations indicate that the anniversary commemorated has unusual significance, an import far deeper than merely nominal consideration would reveal. And such is really the fact. The history of Quebec is largely the history of Canada. The city, its founders and developers have wielded an influence in international affairs that they did not reckon, that in their times they could not estimate. Some keen writers there are who aver that in American history Quebec should rank with Jamestown and Plymouth in importance, owing presumably to the powerful influence exerted from Quebec prior to the Revolution in territory now included in the United States.

Quebec's visitors will be well cared for. A "city of tents," with accommodations for 15,000 people, will supplement the preparations made by hotel and boarding house keepers.

Besieged Five Times.

Quebec was long the key to the possession of the entire Dominion of Canada. It became a part of the unwritten law of nations that whoever held Quebec became entitled to possession of the surrounding territory. This accounts for the fact that Quebec has been under siege or prolonged and concerted attack no less than five times—a record comparing with those of some of the famous war towns of continental Europe. For over a century Quebec was the center of military operations of France and England in the new world, as well as the educational, religious and political center. In its value as a strategic point Quebec is unsurpassed by any city in North America. By successfully resisting the Continental army under General Montgomery and Benedict Arnold in 1771 Quebec saved all of the present dominion of Canada to Great Britain. It was the city that opened the way to the establishment of the great trading posts in the wildernesses that were to earn vast fortunes for kings, princes and nobility. At Quebec is the Basilica, the mother church of Roman Catholicism in America. It was in Quebec that dwelt and ruled, with their retinues, at the Chateau St. Louis, the governors sent over from France and England. The city has long boasted of one of the strongest natural fortifications in the world—the Citadel, crowning the city, well described as the Gibraltar of America, which was designed by Lord Wellington. Quebec was at one time the capital and largest city of the vast territory, and it founded and fostered the great industries that have utilized the immeasurable wealth of the Dominion—ship building, lumbering, manufacturing and mining.

From the foregoing it may readily be realized why the tercentenary of this coveted city is considered to be of primary international importance. In short, Quebec gave Canada to France; that is why the French revere, as Dickens wrote, "the city suspended in midair." Quebec gave Canada to Britain; that is why the British cherish the city as one of the rarest jewels in the crown of empire.

Graceful Homage to Champlain. Now will appear the actual living descendants of great men of Quebec's past, who will do graceful homage to Champlain. The present Marquis de Montcalm will be one of these, and another will be Lord Lovat, direct descendant of the gallant colonel and chief of the Fraser highlanders, which distinguished themselves at the battle of the Plains of Abraham. Following will be shown a panorama of Champlain's first battle with the Iroquois, the superstitious natives

BRYAN IS INTERESTED

Gives Especial Attention to Taft's Statement.

ASKS HIM TO GO FURTHER

Would Have Republican Candidate Announce That All Large Individual Campaign Contributions Would Be Made Public Before Election.

Lincoln, Neb., July 20.—The statement of Judge Taft at Hot Springs, Va., that the Republican national committee would not accept any contributions from corporations in his campaign was viewed here with more than ordinary interest. Mr. Bryan gave it his especial attention. In fact, so impressed was he with the announcement that he broke his usual silence and dictated the following statement:

"We welcome him to this advanced ground and bid him to go further and announce that all individual contributions above a reasonable minimum would be made known before the election."

The fact that it was Sunday did not deter a number of persons from going out to Fairview. The stream of visitors began while Mr. Bryan was at church. The most important caller was Mayor James Dahlman of Omaha, who was closeted with Mr. Bryan for some time, but neither of them would discuss the subject matter of the conversation. Mayor Dahlman later returned to Omaha.

Frank S. Monett, former Republican attorney general of Ohio, who conducted the prosecutions in that state against the Standard Oil company and later was employed by the interstate commerce commission to gather material on which to base the government suits, arrived here and held a lengthy conference with Mr. Bryan.

Monett Will Support Bryan. Mr. Monett announced that it is his purpose to actively support Mr. Bryan in Ohio in the campaign and will make numerous speeches in behalf of the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Monett said that he was authorized by Mr. Bryan to state that because of the government's dereliction in prosecuting the alleged wool combine, whose headquarters he claims are in Ohio, Mr. Bryan had announced that if elected to the presidency he would at once put all the machinery of the government to work to destroy any combination that may exist.

"It will be his policy," said Mr. Monett, "to destroy the wool monopoly that prevents competition as promptly as the courts and himself can do it. The American Woolen company has destroyed, so far as the producer is concerned, the entire benefit supposed to inure from the protection on wool."

Mr. Bryan and Mr. Monett were agreed that the Sherman anti-trust law as it stands today is sufficient for any anti-trust action necessary, but that the government for some unknown reason refuses to act.

Another caller on Mr. Bryan was E. H. Moore of Youngstown, O., who was chairman of the last Democratic convention. He declined to discuss the nature of his visit, beyond the fact that he had talked about the campaign generally.

STRANGE MURDER CASE.

Woman Shot to Death and Her Daughter Wounded.

New York, July 20.—A strange murder case developed when officials of Hackensack, N. J., in examining the body of Mrs. Otella Eberhard, which was found lying on the railroad tracks near Coalberg, N. J., discovered bullet wounds. A passing train had cut the body in two. Otella Eberhard, a daughter of the dead woman, was wounded three times by bullets.

The police are hunting for August Eberhard, a nephew of the murdered woman, believing that he may know something of the crime.

Mrs. Eberhard and her daughter arrived from Vienna last Thursday on the invitation of August Eberhard, her nephew. The girl states that there was an understanding that August was to marry her. Because of the heat, Miss Eberhard says she and her mother were invited by August Eberhard to go to Rochelle park. They wandered around there until evening, when a shower came up and in the darkness trying to find their way, they stumbled over a railroad track. At the Coalberg coal pockets the girl saw a flash between two ears and heard a revolver shot, followed by a series of shots. She started to run and felt that she was hit. Consciousness left her then.

Recovering consciousness shortly afterward, she found her way to a farmhouse, where inmates bound up her wounds and escorted her into Hackensack.

Miss Eberhard says her mother had $2,200 in United States currency and $300 in German notes when they left for their excursion. The $2,200 was missing when the body was found. The German money was untouched.

VICTORS IN OLYMPIC GAMES

How Clubmates of Flanagan and Sheppard Regard Their Triumphs.

New York athletes generally and Irish-American athletic club members particularly have had a general jollification over the news concerning the success of John Flanagan, the hammer thrower, and Melvin Sheppard, the runner, in the first finals decided in the Olympic sports in London.

While the wearers of the "winged fist" and many other close students of athletics anticipated the victory of Flanagan in his favorite game, the general excellence of Sheppard's work in both heat and final of the 1,500 meter race was a much discussed topic.

William L. Jones, a well known New York devotee of amateur sport, when he read the cable announcing the success of his protégé, said:

"It only bears out what I've always said about Melvin's running, and his world's championship in the 1,500 meters will be supplemented by a victory in the 800 meters, which is the event he went over to win. While I have always considered him the greatest middle distance runner I've ever seen, barring Lon Myers, I did not think him quite up to taking the measure of the world's best milers, as he has just done."

I look to see him put up a time performance in the 800 meters. It was certainly a hardship for our team to have such men as Sheppard and Halstead drawn against each other in the trials. I feel confident our point column suffered because of the seeming unfairness of the draw, as Halstead's work in the Philadelphia tryouts, where he did 4 minutes 15 seconds for 1,500 meters, seemed to assure him a victory against Sheppard or any other runner.

When Melvin comes home I will endeavor to have him assail the half mile figures of Kilpatrick—1 minute 53.25 seconds—and the 1,000 yard mark of Myers—2 minutes 13 seconds—which have withstood attack for thirteen and twenty-seven years respectively.

At the Irish-American club's New York city home there was open house, and even the competitive enemies of the "winged fist" were well received.

Patrick J. Conway, the organization's president, to a bunch of athletes interested in the success of the team, individually and collectively, said:

"While our men are showing up in fine style, boys, it's all for the good of the stars and stripes and only what I expected. Of course I rather looked for John to duplicate his fine work at Torrington last month, when he threw the hammer 175 feet 1 1/2 inches, a world's record. In all likelihood when he gets or his native heath he'll get it out 185 feet, a distance I've seen him accomplish many times in practice. You know our boys intend to tour Ireland after the Olympic."

John Flanagan had a novel experience a short time ago as he was leaving New York to compete at some athletic games. Following the usual custom of weight throwers, he carried along with him his own weight, a sixteen pound iron ball, with a thirty-six inch wire handle attached. On the way Flanagan met some friends, and they called in at a "cold tea house" to enjoy a couple of tall ones.

Being painfully modest, John decided to leave the hammer outside, so that the folks inside would not get wise to the fact that he was a great athlete. A few minutes later along came a party of Italians talking in their native tongue.

Suddenly from out of their midst came a fearful whoop, and the bunch scattered like wildfire, seeking places of safety. One rushed into the cafe where John and his party were standing and shrieked at the top of his lungs:

"Bigga da bomb!" "Black Hand!" "Runna fast!"

With that he disappeared and was up the street in a jiffy.

Flanagan and his friends stood in breathless silence waiting for the roof of the building to be blown off, but as no explosion came one of the number took courage and peeped out of the door to see what had caused the Italians to stampede. There, beside the entrance, lay the cause of all the furor—Flanagan's sixteen pound hammer.

The Italians had mistaken the iron ball for a bomb and the long wire handle for a fuse, so of course the laugh was on John.

St. Paul Boy Drowned.

St. Paul, July 20.—Frank Carrier, one of three orphan boys living at 543 Brunson street, was drowned while bathing in a cut on the line of the Soo railroad extension at Mississippi and Acker streets. The body was taken from the water by two soldiers. A physician was called, but the youth was declared to be dead.

Minneapolis Man a Suicide.

Minneapolis, July 20.—Louis Larson, thirty-five years old, a laborer, shot and instantly himself at 4222 Nicollet avenue. Despondency at failure to secure work is said to be the cause of the deed. He used a large caliber rifle, the bullet going through his head.

Murder and Suicide.

Frankfort, Ind., July 20.—Clarence Jones, a young business man, shot and killed Claude Pruitt, a young and well known farmer, at Hillsburg and then sent a bullet into his own brain and fell dead. The men had been drinking and it is alleged the shooting was the result of an argument over a card game.

Ends Three Lives.

Portland, Ore., July 20.—David Connell, chef at the Arlington club in this city, shot to death Mrs. Dolly Sharp and a man whose name has not yet been learned. Connell was pursued to his room, where he looked himself in and blew out his own brains. Jealousy is supposed to have been the cause.

NEW FLYING MACHINE PLAN.

Lander of London Has Rudderless One That Will Rise Without a Run.

A. H. S. Lander of London, England, who has been studying aviation for fifteen years, is building a machine which, he believes, will be a notable improvement on all other flying devices. One of its main features, according to Mr. Lander, is that it will rise without a preliminary run.

It has two independent motors and no rudder. The axes of the propellers are placed at an angle to each other. The whole machine is much smaller than others.

Mr. Lander has been told that it resembles the Wright machine in some of its features. He says that if what he has heard of the Wright brothers' machine is true, they are nearer success than anybody else has yet been.

Captain McCrea Dead.

New York, July 20.—Captain Henry McCrea of the United States navy, who was in command of the battleship Georgia during the cruise of the North Atlantic squadron to the Pacific coast, died of Bright's disease in the naval hospital, Brooklyn. He had been ill since June 22. He was fifty-seven years of age.

Unable to Digest THE FOOD.

The digestive system is a wonderful piece of machinery, but power is necessary to make it effective.

The power, in this case, is the nerve force and with the nerves exhausted the digestive system becomes hopelessly crippled. There is indigestion, headaches, neuralgic pains and spells of weakness, dizziness and discouragement. Strength cannot be regained from the food you eat, but you can be restored by has named Vice President Fairbanks to act in the same capacity, and the president of the French republic is sending a large delegation of prominent men and several battleships. Rear Admiral William S. Cowles, U. S. N., who is President Roosevelt's brother-in-law, will be the president's personal representative and will also represent the United States navy. Lieutenant Commander David F. Sellers of the bureau of navigation will be his aid. The first class battleship New Hampshire has been designated to carry the United States representatives to Quebec. She will sail from Newport, R. I., and will arrive at Quebec July 22, the date set for the arrival of the Prince of Wales. It is estimated that between thirty and forty warships will take part in the naval pageant in the St. Lawrence.

VICE PRESIDENT C. W. FAIRBANKS. THE PRINCE OF WALES.

THE PLAINS OF ABRAHAM.

Splendid Panoramic Drama.

The celebration will last almost two weeks, and undoubtedly the most spectacular feature will be the panoramic drama, of an allegorical nature, representing the different stages of Quebec's advancement from the wilderness to today. This spectacle will be produced on the Plains of Abraham on Cape Diamond, the high cliff overlooking the river where Wolfe, the final conqueror of Quebec for England, and Montcalm, its heroic defender, both met death in the same battle. Upward of 4,000 people will take part in the scenes to be enacted. Rehearsals of the different parts of the production have been going on since the middle of June under the direction of Frank Lascelles, master of pageants, who was director of the Oxford pageant a year ago. The first scene will picture the primeval wilderness along the St.

clustered on the shrouds and spars to lend added picturesqueness to the scene. A parade will then form on shore to escort Champlain and his company up the great rock to the Upper Town. This procession will be peculiarly appropriate in its make-up, containing Quebec, Ottawa and Montreal townsfolk costumed to represent individuals, companies, soldiers and sailors that aided in the foundation and perpetuation as well as historic renown of the city.

There will be Breton sailors of Cartier's day, the courts of France and of Henry of Navarre, the discoverers Jollette, La Salle and Maisonneuve; the white regiment of Carignan-Salieres, Frontenac with his brilliant staff and sovereign council, Montcalm and De Levis at the head of their famous regiments of Guylene, Bearn, La Sarre, Languedoc, Roussillon and Berri; Wolfe and Murray with the highlanders and the other famous regiments under their command, Guy Carleton and the defenders of Quebec in 1775, De Salaberry and his 300 Voltigeurs de Chateauguay. Fifteen banners will designate the different divisions.

Graceful Homage to Champlain.

Now will appear the actual living descendants of great men of Quebec's past, who will do graceful homage to Champlain. The present Marquis de Montcalm will be one of these, and another will be Lord Lovat, direct descendant of the gallant colonel and chief of the Fraser highlanders, which distinguished themselves at the battle of the Plains of Abraham.

Following will be shown a panorama of Champlain's first battle with the Iroquois, the superstitious natives
